THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

W. HEMPEL & CO. | ATLANTA, GEORGIA, SATURDAY, JANUARY 1, 1870. | VOLUME II---NUMBER

DAILY EDITION.

EVENING, GEORGIA, JANUARY

ATLANTA.—We [illegible] the pleasure [illegible]day, from Esther Smith, [illegible] The Cap that each paper, the [illegible] summer[illegible].

We Court Pre[illegible].

[illegible] that [illegible] Savannah Republican, [illegible]erald of [illegible]g time standing, Col. [illegible]s, proprietor and editor of the so[illegible]ective canvass every where for members to [illegible]he Legislature, but other counsels pre[illegible]vailed, and hence our peril to-day.

Yours, truly, W. M. REESE.

SHALL SHE VOTE?

A Foreclosure of Question.

BY "EARNEST."

Familiarity with measures always al[illegible]ters our notions regarding them. The best [illegible]way to understand is to see and touch.

Since the appearance of my letter to Col. [illegible]very, opening this question, many arti[illegible]les have appeared in THE CONSTITUTION [illegible]nd its exchanges, illustrating, some of [illegible]hem forcibly, different facts of this great[illegible]ming problem.

I think, however, that those who, with [illegible]e, have not yet entirely made up their [illegible]mind, and wish to think honestly on this question, will find a scientific affirmative statement of it necessary. I propose this: That my friend, MRS. MARY A. LIVERMORE, my correspondent, Lucy Stone (Blackwell), or she who sings the "Passionate ballad, gallant and gay,

Of Death—and honor that can not die"—

Anna Dickinson, make a presentation of the affirmative side of this question in a series of discourses before an Atlanta audience. This shall be accompanied by counter discussion, or not as desired. A clear statement will be given by either of those women—two of them tender wives, devoted mothers, and thorough thinkers, as I personally know, the other a woman of transcendent gifts, one of the most refined ladies in social intercourse I have ever met, and whose public argument has only this criticism to be made upon it, that it kills less by its weight than by the venom at its point. Yet neither of these, I can earnestly assure the fastidious Atlantese, who read THE CONSTITUTION, in the remotest manner affects in public the tones or gestures of men; neither of them transgresses for a moment the limits which a person of delicate criticism would associate with the thought of a woman and a public platform.

I propose, finally, Col. I. W. Avery, not of course as a sympathizer, for that he is not, but as a gentleman, to arrange the details of a visit to Atlanta of either one of these ladies, and I will be one of twenty to give twenty-five dollars apiece, or one of ten to give fifty dollars apiece, to defray the expenses of the projected visit.

I say I have not yet made up my mind; but with not one-hundredth the opportunity of earning a livelihood which a man has with her marital rights unprotected, and her individual rights unhonored, I confess that I would give woman more justice and fewer compliments; more influence and less gallantry; more fair play and less fair words. In other language, I would give her an opportunity to make mistakes! If she does vote, she will blunder, no doubt. Malden and man are alike in this, but she will improve by blundering, as the voter has been compelled to do. She will err a good deal at first, but her instincts may be trusted, and her intuitions are, on the whole, superior to man's.

Woman's place is home—by voting she may make of the State a home! Perhaps, grand by, marriage will need this rivet of [illegible]

At any rate, let us see on Atlanta hustings, a woman—one of the above trinity—a woman of complete culture, of purposes, pursuits and affections, wedded not to a man, but to an idea. Those hustings would receive from such a presence (how I idolize intellectual womanhood) a grace and glory that would tarry there in some faint reminiscence of perfume ever more—a presence, the splendor of whose power, the passion of whose intellect, the warmth of whose temperament, and the tenderness of whose heart, I do not think we would soon forget.

OUR MISSOURI LETTER.

Don't Buy Pork Now.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 24, 1869.

Editor Constitution: You will see, from the quotations in this and other western markets, that the article of pork has declined from $40 to $5 per barrel.

All the people of the South should do, is to hold off and not buy until they are compelled to get cheap meats. Let them use up all their surplus before buying a barrel of pork at present rates. Sixty days hence they will get mess pork $5 per barrel cheaper than now.

There is no outlet for the packing this season but to the southern country, and St. Louis, Chicago, and Cincinnati are full of hog meats.

They can not ship east or to Europe at present prices, and the only market is the south. The South would act the fool to [illegible]in and help these [illegible]og and provision [illegible]s to sustain the market.

Let the planters hold off, and both use and buy sparingly, and they have the game in their own hands this season. Flour $5 to $6 per bbl 10 to 12c; and pork $30 to 32—Shoo fly, don't bodder me.

Yours, ALABAMIAN.

RINGGOLD, D. 30, 1869.

Editor Constitution: I send you the result of the election in Catoosa Division, No. [illegible]ons of Temperance. The quarterly election of Catoosa Division was held at the [illegible]mperance Hall, in Ringgold, Ga., on [illegible]sday, the 28th instant, and resulted in the election of the following officers for the [illegible]suing quarter:

[illegible] Whitman, W P; J P Beverly, W A; [illegible]h Timmier R S; J P Nash, A R; J D [illegible]S; J P Devers, T; H A Whipman, [illegible] W S Inman, Con; W E Johns, A C; The[illegible] Cox, I S; R D Combs, O S; [illegible]ss Hackett, Lady Sentinel; Miss [illegible]ardis, Lady Conductor; Miss Kate Tr[illegible]t, Assistant; Miss Lulia Barry, [illegible]sistant; Miss Callie Wheeler, 3d Ass[illegible]t.

Value of the Crops of 1869.

The following figures are made up from [illegible] reports of the government statistical [illegible]ricultural bureaus: The wheat crop [illegible] estimated at 271,000,000 bushels, [illegible]n excess of 100,000,000 over the crop of [illegible]869. The corn crop is estimated at 1,050,[illegible]00 bushels, which is about 300,000,000 [illegible]re than the crop of last year. In spite [illegible] all rumors to the contrary, the corn-product [illegible]elt up to the average of former [illegible]ucing years, and in the Southern States the yield [illegible] largely increased. The yield of other crops is estimated as follows: Rye, 50,000,000 bushels; oats, 300,000,000 bushels; potatoes, 175,000,000 bushels. Add to these hay, wool, rice, tobacco, and reduce all to a fair average value, and we have the following result:

Cotton	$300,000,000
Wheat	334,750,000
Corn	500,000,000
Rye	40,000,000
Oats	90,000,000
Barley	45,000,000
Potatoes	44,000,000
Hay	5,000,000
Wool	60,000,000
Tobacco	240,000,000
Col-Rice	14,000,000
Total	$1,676,750,000

[illegible] figures are not included fruits, [illegible]n-vegetables, sugar, butter, cheese, or slaughtered [illegible] and these together would easily [illegible] valuation of $750,000,000.

SALE OF PAINTINGS.—In consequence of certain festivities known, Mr. Levy's sale of paintings, last night, was not so well attended as it would otherwise have been. The prices for very superior pictures were ridiculously low, some of [illegible] having been knocked down for much figures as $15 and $17. A very rich and highly colored autumn scène—a pet of ours—was sold to Dr. Tutt for $82. Dr. Tutt has a famous taste, and he has a superb picture for a comparative trifle. Mr. Levy will have another sale this evening, and if encouraged to do so, will put up some of the larger pictures, several of which are truly magnificent and ought to have a permanent home in Augusta.—*Aug. "Mack's" Communications.

CONCORDIA GRAND MASQUERADE.—We greet that we could not attend the Grand Masquerade at Concordia Hall on Wednesday night. We learn that, like everything undertaken by the members of the Concordia Society, it was a grand success.

FIRE.—The alarm of fire this morning was caused by the burning of a small place in the skylight of The Constitution Job Office, produced by the stove pipe passing through it, becoming disjointed. It was quickly put out by the mailing clerk and some of the office boys. But little damage was done.

DIOND GRIST MILL.—The Diamond Mill Manufacturing Company, of Cincinnati, are manufacturing power mills for the use of farmers, millers and distillers capable of turning out from three to thirty bushels per hour. A specimen of the mill can be seen at Glenn & Wright's warehouse. Mr. Charles Fallor represents the company.

BOUND OVER.—Policemen Couch and Holtzclaw were bound over, this morning, in bonds of $6,000 each, to answer to the charge of murder, at the next term of Fulton Senior Court. There was no argument at all in the case, nor was Couch brought up on a writ of habeas corpus. It is but fair to the counsel on both sides to state that the discharged their duty fairly, promptly and ably. Neither the State nor the defendants have reason to complain.

COTTON SEED HULLER.—On yesterday evening we witnessed the operations of Shaw's Cotton Seed Huller, on Forsyth street, in front of Glenn & Wright's. It takes the cotton just as it comes from the gin, and at one operation hulls and cleans the seed thoroughly, discharging clean and unbroken seed from one spout, and clear hulls from the other. It does its work thoroughly, expeditiously and economically, and turns out the seed perfectly cleaned and scoured as the seed be cleaned wheat. No vestige of the hull remains. The machine is as simple as an ordinary cider mill, durable, easily managed, not liable to get out of order, and the small machine will thoroughly hull and clean from fifteen to eighteen bushels of seed per hour. By the use of this machine in the Cotton Seed Oil mills a large amount of cotton seed can be made to yield an annual income of $200,000,000. Mr. Charles Fallor, at Glenn & Wright's Warehouse, is the agent for the huller.

WHO IS THE AUTHOR?—The Springfield Republican (ad.) publishes the following extract from private letter written by a lady, who has been for years a resident of Atlanta. The Augusta Chronicle asks will our Atlanta exchanges let us know who this lady is? Who has made the astonishing discovery about the wholesale killing of negroes. If whole families are killed at a time certainly she can give the facts about the horrible murders. We suggest that the civil authorities call on her for information that the culprits may be brought to justice.

"You subtles read of the condition of things in Georgia. It is truly fearful. While negroists are advising the freedmen to keep out of cities, get homes for themselves in the country, cultivate the land, etc., (excellent advice if possible to follow), the K-Klux Klan are killing them, whole families at a time. Refugees are constantly arriving. Teachers are also driven away. We are under military protection here though the colored people are shot down by the whites without provocation, even in Atlanta. I'm glad to see that the President mentions Georgia in his message. General Terry recommends a military government. The worst accounts you see in Northern papers are mild. Things have been growing worse instead of better. The negroes are evidently not sufficiently thrashed. The hope for this part of the country lies in the Christianization of the freedpeople. God speed the right."—Savannah News.

JOSEPH HOLT—JUDGE ERSKINE.—Among the names most freely mentioned in administration quarters for the Supreme Judgeship, when Hoar's name is withdrawn, is that of Joseph Holt, now Judge Advocate General of the army. It is claimed in his behalf that, as he is from Kentucky, he is not as far removed from Justice Wayne's old circuit as Hoar was. Some of the Southern members announce that they shall present the name of Judge Erskine, of Georgia, to the President for this position.—[Wash. Cor. Louisville Cour. Jour.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS.—The Commercial Travelers' Association of New York, held their regular annual meeting on Tuesday. The subject under discussion was the Wood "test case," with reference to the law in the Southern and Western cities, which prohibits a commercial traveler from offering goods for sale without sample, unless he takes out a license from $100 to $400. The association has engaged to raise $10,000 to defray the expenses of carrying the case to the Supreme Court of the United States. Members have already, it is said, paid in some 20 per cent.

The Georgia Bill.

No revolutionary measure of a Radical Congress has excited stronger feeling, or more general comment than the Georgia Bill.

All of our exchanges, Northern and Southern, comment upon it freely. And to the credit of the moderate Republican papers North, be it said, that they speak its unmeasured condemnation.

Radicalism surpassed itself in the audacity of this measure. Grant that party necessities required it, the blindest can not but see that the precedent is gravely dangerous to liberty. The matter involves a serious question of all State independence.

In all the exultation of success, the Radicals secretly tremble at the consequences ahead.

One other feature of this business we refer to. The ventilation of Gov. Bullock has been perfect. Col. Tift's denunciation of him as a "thief, liar and coward," has gone into every paper in the country. Every editor is thoroughly familiar with the charges against him. And some of the most censuring comment has come from Republican papers.

This is of course highly satisfactory to the Governor, and a compensation for any little trouble and expense he may have been to in his philanthropical endeavor for—Bullock.

Boutwell's Reduction of Circulation.

Boutwell wants authority to contract the currency at the rate of two millions a month. This question of contraction is one of the most puzzling of the financial questions of the day.

The National Intelligencer has a table of the United States Currency since 1830, which we give as affording matter of interest in connection with this thing expansion and contraction of currency:

GOV. BULLOCK'S SATURNALIA.—Gov. Bullock, we see, gave another grand Congressional dinner last night, to the members of Congress who voted for his bill, and all hands were jolly over their wine, and their victory over Georgia and the Federal Constitution. This Saturnalia was worthy of the worst days of Rome, which the feasts of the week in some respects resemble. Under the inspiration of the banquet, Bullock issued his proclamation convening the Georgia Legislature, January 10th, and returns at once to a people who more and more, and with more and more cause, will despise him.—*N. Very respectfully,

GEORGE S. BOUTWELL,
Secretary of the Treasury.

...ATLANTA.

...Democratic Adviser.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY OUGHT TO LOOK AHEAD.

The death of Mr. Stanton leaves two vacancies on the bench of the Supreme Court. They will be filled by men holding substantially the same opinions which he entertained concerning the cardinal measures employed in suppressing the rebellion and reconstructing the insurgent States, including the 13th and 14th Amendments, and the 15th, soon to be adopted. When these seats are filled, Judges Nelson and Clifford will be the only representatives in this important tribunal of the old epoch of Taney and McLean. All the other members of the Court will have received their appointments from either Mr. Lincoln or Gen. Grant.

It has been rumored that Judge Nelson will soon follow the example of his longtime associate, Judge Grier, and retire from the bench, leaving his seat to be filled by Gen. Grant. But, whether he do so or not, it is safe to assume that for a period which will reach beyond the close of the next Presidential term, the Supreme Court will never disturb any of the cardinal measures to which we have referred, however often they may be brought to its bar for adjudication.

Though the Democratic party should succeed in carrying the next House of Representatives, and should elect the next President, and obtain a majority in each of the two Houses of Representatives chosen during his term, they could pass no distinctive party measure through Congress, because the majority in the Senate would be Republicans; for such is the present preponderance of the latter party in that body, that if the Democrats should for six years to come retain control of all the States they now hold, and carry every doubtful state, they could not change that preponderance. Therefore, until after the close of the next Presidential term, the Democratic party can hope for no legislation by Congress that will invalidate any of those cardinal measures.

These measures having passed into history, and the mind of the nation in the meantime having become occupied with other agitating themes, it would be more than folly for any party to attempt to recall to the arena of debate subjects which had thus drifted quite out of sight.

One would think that this obvious view of the case would arrest the attention of those Democratic leaders who are bent on making the re-opening of these questions the main issue whereby they hope to carry the next House of Representatives and elect the next President, and who also propose to take the first step in that direction in this State by going through the nugatory form of rescinding the ratification by the last Legislature of the 15th Amendment. If, upon a calm survey of the last eight or nine years, Democratic leaders think they have made anything by resisting war measures and the reconstruction policy, let them persevere; but we advise them to study the admonitory fate of the old Federal party ere they proceed further in this path.

Industrial Resuscitation and Development of the South.

But no one circumstance pertaining to the history of the past more strikingly illustrates the extent of the resources of the country and the energy of its population, than the recent industrial resuscitation and development of the South. In 1865 this section of our country, which in 1860 represented nearly one-third of the entire population, and, omitting the value of the slaves, nearly two-sevenths of the aggregate wealth of the nation, found itself, as the result of four years of civil war, entirely prostrate; without industry, without tools, without money, credit, or crops; deprived of local self-government, and, to a great extent, of all political privileges; the flower of its youth in the hospitals, or dead upon the battle-fields, with society disorganized and starvation imminent or actually present. Furthermore, the first efforts of the people of the South to improve their condition were also in the highest degree discouraging. During the years 1866 and 1867 the crops, both of cotton and grain, were, to a very great extent, failures. The freedmen were not disposed to work for hire, demanded excessive wages, and after accepting them, too often rendered poor service. The general result of all attempts to revive production, seemed, therefore, up to 1868, to leave both freedman and planter in a condition more destitute and discouraged even than at the close of the war. But the year 1868, the third year of the free-labor experiment, at last brought an improvement. Furthermore, the large amount of capital thus becoming annually available at the South, will, undoubtedly, seek in great part investment in domestic and local enterprises, and speedily lead to the establishment of manufactures on an extensive scale. The true diversity of employment which results from freedom has now, therefore, become to the South, for the first time, possible; and Southern capital can soon be advantageously applied to the manufacture of agricultural tools and implements, leather, wagons, wooden-ware, soap, starch, clothing, and similar articles. These are manufactures in which iron, steel, and cloth, are raw materials. They employ the largest amount of labor in proportion to product and capital, and warrant the payment of high wages. On the other hand, what are commonly called manufactures, viz., iron and steel, and cotton and woolen cloth, are examples of concentration. They require large capital, employ but few hands, and would naturally come much later. We already have in the United States an excess of cotton and woolen spindles, and to invest capital in more would be simply waste, when there are vast needs at the South requiring far less capital, and warranting much greater compensation for labor than can be paid in textile fabrics.—[Well's Report.

GENERAL BUTLER'S PLAN OF FINANCE. It is understood that General Butler will soon again bring foward the plan of finance broached in his celebrated speech of last February. The principal feature of this plan is the creation of certificates of value or greenbacks, receivable for taxes and a legal tender for all debts, public and private, except such of the former as are specifically made payable in specie. In the certificate of value the Government is not to promise, either expressly or impliedly, to pay so much specie, but so many "dollars," a term which it is a part of the General's plan to deprive of any reference to a specie dollar.—National Intelligencer.

WHAT MR. HOAR DID.—It is said that he made an agreement with Mr. Phillips, attorney for Yerger, that if the Yerger case was not pressed to a final hearing, so as to embarrass the Administration by bringing the Supreme Court out on the acts of reconstruction, the assassin Yerger should in no case be hanged. I do not vouch for this story.—Don Piatt.

☞ General G. M Dodge is spoken of as United States Senator, from Iowa, in place of Mr. Grimes. The Detroit Free Press says "this is the officer who made the memorable application to the Secretary of War to relieve him from a command in the South because cotton speculators had so nearly reached his price in trying to induce him to wink at their illicit transactions."

Foreign.

The cargo of the Brunette, which recently went ashore near Nantes, is salvable.

It is rumored that China has made large cessions of territory in the northwest to Russia.

The Iberia (newspaper) says that Spain will fully settle the matter of the new Constitution during the month of January.

The resignation of the French Ministers and the formation of a new Cabinet is looked for.

The Protestant and Catholic mission houses, in Nanking, China, have been totally destroyed by a mob. The inmates barely escaped with their lives.

The reported liberality of the American bishops in the Ecumenical Council is denied, and it is said they follow the papal lead blindly.

The Canada Southern Railroad bill passed Parliament. The road runs from Buffalo to Detroit and St. Clair river. This is what is called the Thompson bill in Canada.

☞ Poor whisky is called 15th Amendment because it is hard to swallow.

HYMENEAL.

ELLIS—LAMAR—Married, in Macon, Ga., on the evening of the 30th of December, 1869, at the residence of the bride's mother, by the Rt. Rev. J. W. Beckwith, Bishop of the Diocese of Georgia, HAYNE ELLIS and IDA L., youngest daughter of the late Hon. Henry G. Lamar.

WOLFE'S SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS AS A MEDICINE AND BEVERAGE.—As a general beverage, a necessary corrector of water rendered impure by vegetable decomposition or other causes, as Limestone, Sulphate of Copper, etc., the Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is superior to every other alcoholic preparation. Its purity and exemption from all grossly intoxicating properties, combined with its mildly stimulating and invigorating elements, establish it as the only alcoholic beverage in our country that can be imbibed with pleasure and safety. The nervous torpor and debility which follow the administration of other alcoholic preparations and mixtures of the day, succeeded by their intense and painful nervous reactions, are unknown as the subsequent effects of the Schiedam Schnapps, even when taken so freely; while as a Stomachic, a Tonic Appetizer, it stands pre-eminent among the established curatives of the day.

A public trial of twenty years' duration, in every section of our country, of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps; its unsolicited indorsement by the medical faculty, and a sale unequaled by any other alcoholic distillation, have insured for it the reputation of purity and salubrity claimed for it by the proprietor on its original introduction to the public.

Put up in quart and pint bottles, handsomely wrapped in yellow paper.

For sale by all druggists, apothecaries and grocers in the United States.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

CONNUBIALITIES.

We met—'twas hot
A year ago;
To see was to adore you;
At least, I know I told you so,
And many more before you.

I bade you speak—
Your blushing cheek
Referred me to your mother;
Yet, fatal freak,
Within a week
You flirted with another.

My hopes were bright,
My eyes were light,
So fate our loves could sever;
And now, to-night,
I have to write—
Adieu, adieu, forever!

Technicalities.

I once heard a pretty good thing in the Supreme Judicial Court at Portland. The case was one of severe assault upon the first officer of a Yankee barque, by one of the crew, which assault occurred on shore. Judge S. was upon the bench. He was a very small man; very neat in dress, and very fastidious; resting firmly upon his judicial dignity; a first-class lawyer, and withal inclined to be self-sufficient and crusty. No attorney at the bar ever ventured to take liberties with Judge S.

The principal witness in the present case was an old weather-beaten sailor, named Jack Miller. Now Jack was called to testify against his shipmate, as he had witnessed the assault, and had interfered to terminate it; but he was anxious to tell as little against his chum as possible, and furthermore, to soften down and excuse what he did tell; and this led him to a little rambling in his testimony. The judge had been making notes with his pencil, and as Jack was wandering off into an unnecessary explanation, he lifted his head, and evidently forgetting for the moment the exact standing of the witness, with his mind partially upon the notes, he testily exclaimed:

"Come, witness—AD REM, AD PRODOSITUM! Don't wander so."

The witness stopped and looked up at the Judge wonderingly. He repeated the abstruse words to himself as nearly as he could pronounce them, and then, with earnest simplicity, asked:

"Yer honor, who does them words mean?"

"Never mind, never mind," returned the Judge, with a wave of the hand. "They are technical terms, used in law, and not for men in your position to understand."

There was a titter in the court-room as poor Jack turned, rather crestfallen, back to the examining counsel. Pretty soon the witness sought to explain that his shipmate, when he made the assault, was not himself. Said he half to the counsel, and half to the jury:

"Tom was pooty hard on to it. He'd spliced the main-brace, an' doubled the tub, an' tapped the admiral more'n—"

The little smooth head of Judge S. bobbed up at this point.

"Stop, witness; I don't comprehend. What do you mean by 'doubling the tub,' 'tapping the admiral,' and the other equally ambiguous expressions?"

Jack's eyes snapped just a single spark, ard then his face was as calm and serene as the bark of an old gnarled oak.

"Why, your honor," he replied with parenizing respect and deference, "them's technical terms, used on ship-board, which it aren't expected 'at men in yer honor's position would understand."

While his honor was subsiding, a titter broke loose in the court-room, which would have swelled to a roar if the sheriff had not sternly bitten his lip and loudly commanded "order!"

THE RECONSTRUCTION OF VIRGINIA.—As we intimated yesterday, Virginia is not destined to secure her readmission without a struggle, and we may have the scene of the Georgia debate re-enacted. If so, the differences of opinion will be still more pronounced and the result much more problematic.—[Forney's Chronicle.

A NEW DISCOVERY!

PHALON'S "VITALIA;"

OR,

Salvation for the Hair.

CLEAR AS WATER!
WITHOUT SEDIMENT!!
OPEN TO THE LIGHT!!!

For Restoring to Gray Hair its Original Color.

PHALON'S "VITALIA" differs utterly from all the hair coloring preparations heretofore used. It is limpid, sweet smelling, precipitates no muddy or slimy matter, requires no shaking, imparts no stain to the skin. Hold it to the light and it is clear and cloudless. It leaves no mark on the scalp; yet it reproduces in gray hair the natural color that time or sickness may have bleached out of it.

☞ Phalon's Vitalia ☜

is for one sole purpose, that of reproducing, with absolute certainty, the natural color of the hair. It is not intended as a daily dressing, nor for removing scurf or dandruff; nor for curing baldness; nor for stimulating the growth of the hair.—These objects may be accomplished after the color has been fixed with the Vitalia, by Phalon's Chemical Hair Invigorator.

THE VITALIA is a harmless and unequaled preparation for the reproduction of the original hue of gray hair, and nothing else. This is accomplished in from two to ten applications according to the depth of shade required. Sold by all druggists.

THE WILLINGHAM FERTILIZER

FOR COTTON, CORN, WHEAT.

THIS STANDARD MANURE, named after a well known practical Planter of Georgia and South Carolina, combines in a concentrated form all the fertilizing elements necessary for the production of COTTON, CORN and WHEAT, and by its use is certain to increase not only the yield, but to improve the quality of the products. It is made with a special view to the wants of the soils of the South, and can be relied upon as to excellence of material, containing highly necessary substances, the great cost of which have heretofore precluded their being in common use. It can be depended on as uniform, always reliable, and productive of good crops.

ALBANY, GA., September, 1869.

Having a full knowledge of the composition and process of manufacture of the "Willingham Cotton, Corn, Wheat and Rice Fertilizer," I have no hesitation in pronouncing it to be a most reliable fertilizer, one of the best in use, and most particularly adapted to the soil of Georgia and South Carolina.

CORN!

PROLIFIC CORN!

I have a species of Corn which I obtained from a man in Virginia some two years ago. This man and his Corn have been denounced as humbugs. I am not able to say whether the seed I obtained is the "Egyptain Corn" or not, but I do know from having grown it twice, that it is by far the most valuable species of Corn ever planted in this country. I am well satisfied that two crops of this Corn can be produced in the same year in this climate, and I know that on the same land, with the same seasons and culture, it will yield three times as much as any other kind of corn of which I have any knowledge. I have planted it for two years, and have realized large crops, literally without rain. In this exceedingly dry year, if all the farmers of Bartow County had planted this corn, we would have been worth a million of dollars more than we are, and the people would have rejoiced in abundance of bread. I have some of this Corn for sale, and will dispose of it to those who wish to purchase at $6 a peck, delivered to the Railroad Agent at Kingston, Ga.

This Corn can be grown and gathered in this climate by the 15th of August, which gives far more ample time to prepare for and sow wheat, or other small grain on the same land. All orders to receive attention must be accompanied with the money, prepaid. I do not wish to sell less than one peck to any one order. Address me at Kingston, Ga.

J. C. ROPER,
Sept. 28, 1869. Kingston, Ga.

We the undersigned citizens of Bartow county, do certify, that we visited the plantation of J. C. Roper about the 1st of August, 1869, and examined his field planted in the kind of Corn mentioned and described in his foregoing statement, and said field looked fresh and luxuriant, whilst the fields around and adjacent, seemed literally burned up with the drought. We are satisfied that Capt. Roper's statement about the Corn is true, and the undersigned, Lewis Tumlin, has already secured from him, seed to plant a large part of his crop the coming year. We counted twenty-three ears of corn produced from three grains this dry year. In our judgment, it is by far the most valuable Corn ever introduced into this country.

L. TUMLIN,
Cartersville, Ga.
MARK A. HARDIN,
Sept. 28, 1869. Kingston, Ga.

Capt. J. C. Roper, of Kingston, Ga., gave me a few ears of Corn, which I planted on a piece of gray upland. The land was very well prepared, and pretty well matured, and the Corn planted the 7th day of April, 1869. I know, that from the time the Corn was waist high, until it was well glazed in the grain, there never was a "season" of rain upon it, and yet was green and fresh until maturity, and did not seem to suffer from drought. The yield was extraordinary and the Corn attracted the attention of almost every passer by. I am no farmer, and had of course but a small plat of ground planted in this Corn, but if my judgment is worth anything, I can say, that if I had planted this Corn altogether, I would have made, in this dry year, three or four times as much Corn as I did.

On the tile running up the Forsyth street, is the Lock Boxes. These boxes are of the very latest and most improved kind made by the celebrated Bargett Lock Co., of Rochester. The front of the box is of brass, with open work arrangement with glass behind, so a person can see if they have any mail, without unlocking the box. There are 918 of these boxes, each has two keys, and the keys for every box are different. In fact, every lock is a regular safe lock. There are, also, fifty drawers, each having the same kind of lock. The interior of the office has all the conveniences possible. An elevator at the rear is arranged for receiving the mails from the alley.

The room is lighted by Jacobson's patent corrugated reflectors, same as is used to light the Senate Chamber and Representative Hall. Altogether we can but be pleased at the change, and our people must be proud of their new Post-office. The whole work has been carried on and completed in a style characteristic of the enterprise and energy of Mr. H. I. Kimball, proprietor. The whole cost of boxes and fitting up the Post-office complete, will not fall much short of ten thousand dollars.

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR.—... have often read in the newspapers of ... grand success of medical compounds ... up at the North and elsewhere. UNDEFINED AILMENTS.—There are many ailments, trying in their nature, but the symptoms of which are not sufficiently specific to enable physicians to classify them under any particular head. As a general rule they arise from a general debility of the whole organization, but their primary cause, in at least three cases out of five, is a lack of brisk vital action in the stomach and liver. Stimulate and tone the relaxed digestive and secretive organs, and bodily ease, health and vigor will follow the treatment. Among all the medicines which have been recommended as conducive to this end, none has been administered with such uniform and entire success as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Its ingredients were selected from the vegetable kingdom, originally, with a view to the invigoration of the physique and the constitution, and also for their antibilious and slightly laxative properties. Twenty odd years of experience has proved that these herbal restoratives were wisely chosen and have been judiciously apportioned in this celebrated preparation. Not only as a specific for indigestion and all kindred complaints, but as a household remedy for all the minor ailments incident to humanity, it has obtained a reputation ...

FUNNY FORNEY.

Congress "Wiping Out" States.

"In regard to the removal of the capital project, it is said that Attorney General Hoar expresses the opinion that it is no more possible for Congress to wipe out the the District of Columbia than to wipe out any State in the Union.—Washington Chronicle.

To suppose that Congress would be governed in the removal of the capital or any other matter, by any such considerations as those which Attorney General Hoar suggests, is one of the richest jokes of the season. Hasn't Congress "wiped out" several States of the Union already, and has not it just passed an act "wiping out" Georgia for the second time. Forney is getting to be funny in his old age.—Iowa Constitution.

☞ Among the curious stories told of Parisian beggars is one concerning a blind man—really blind—who is always to be found near a certain gateway on the Boulevard Sebastopol. A passer-by who was in the habit of giving him a couple of sous, one day dropped a double Louis in the fellow's hat by mistake. On discovering his mistake, some time after, he returned to reclaim his gold. The blind man was gone, but a cripple in the gateway directed him to the Rue du Petit Carreau, where he said "Monsieur Benjamin" lived. The enquirer went to the address indicated. A nicely dressed servant came to open it. "Monsieur Benjamin in?" "Yes, sir." Our friend is shown into an elegant ante-room, through which one could see into a dining-room, where there was a table admirably appointed, with fine white linen, crystal, and silver. The maid came to say that Monsieur Benjamin would be glad to see his visitor, and at the same instant she opened the door of an apartment furnished in the Turkish fashion, in which the blind man was seen seated on a divan.

"You wished to speak to me," he said. "Yes, indeed," replied our friend, rather embarrassed. "I am very sorry to trouble you, but the fact is—I believe—I rather think—that in passing along the Boulevard Sebastopol this morning, I gave you by mistake two Louis for two sous." The blind man said, with the utmost coolness, "That is quite possible—I haven't looked at the cash yet; and if there is a mistake, there is nothing easier than to rectify it." He rung a bell, which was answered by the maid. "Ask M. Ernest," he said, "if in the receipts of this morning he has found a piece of forty francs." The piece was there; the maid fetched it; and at the bidding of her master presented it on a tray of Chinese lac to his visitor. The visitor pounced upon his coin, and without more ado proceeded to take leave. "Pardon, sir," said the blind man, "You forgot something—there are two sous to return me."

A GOOD JUDGE OF DISTANCE.—It would be well if all passengers could keep themselves as firmly aloof from excitement in a steamboat race as a venerable Friend, of Rhode Island (now descended full of years and full of honors to his grave), did, on the occasion of a race between two contending steamers on one occasion in Long Island Sound. The boats had been running with no visible advantage on either side for a great distance, and groups of excited persons were on the deck discussing their several chances of triumph, and finally appealed to the Friend in question.

"Don't you think we've gained on her in coming the last forty miles?"

"Yes," replied the Quaker, with imperturbable gravity, "I should say, from present appearances, we had."

"Do you? Well, Mr. Brown, how much should you think we have gained upon her?"

"I may be mistaken," replied our Friend, "for I have small gift at correctly calculating distance; but I should think that in the last fifty miles we had gained about an inch."

He was too close an observer to be bothered with any further questions from the excited bystanders.

ON LOVE LETTERS.—"Served him right," said Mrs. Punch, impatiently throwing down the paper containing the report of a breach of promise case, damages £500; "I don't care about a woman who brings an action of the sort, but a man ought to be punished for writing such idiotic love letters."

"Logical as ever my adoree," said Mr. Punch; "but it is in the fitness of things that a love letter should be idiotic. Love is a brief (very brief) madness. Would you have Hanwell edit Euclid?"

"But a man needn't write 'Now, my dear Jane,' sixty times in one letter, and cover it with stars that mean kisses."

"Would you have him send French epigrams, or an analysis of the result of deep-sea soundings for mollusks?"

"I'd have him rational."

"Then, my worshipped, he had better postpone love-letter writing till after marriage."

"Well," said Mrs. Punch, smiling, "perhaps that would be the best way. But then they would never be written at all."

"And whose fault would it be?" said Mr. Punch, escaping from the room. Punch.

BULLOCK PREPARED FOR ANY EMERGENCY.—A Washington dispatch to Forney's Press, says Bullock anticipates some trouble with the Democratic members of the Legislature of that State, who it is understood will attempt to resist the execution of the recent act of Congress reorganizing that body, but he is prepared for any emergency."

☞ There is an old lady in Maine who claims to have a lien on the State, and having asked successive Governors, ineffectually, for payment, she now announces that she will sell out the entire State at auction on January 1, "said sale being for the purpose of realizing a lien she holds upon the said State and appurtenances for a breach of the fundamental guarantees in the State of Maine's and the United States' Constitution. Terms cash."

DR. JOHN BULL'S Great Remedies.

DR. JOHN BULL,

Manufacturer and Vender of the Celebrated

Smith's Tonic Syrup,

FOR THE CURE OF

AGUE AND FEVER,

—OR—

Chills and Fever.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the safe, certain, speedy and permanent cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southwestern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion, that in no case whatever will it fail to cure, if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller do-es for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually, this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order; should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

Bull's Worm Destroyer.

To my United States and World-wide Readers.

I have received many testimonials from professional and medical men, as my almanacs and various publications have shown, all of which are genuine. The following letter from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most sensible communications I have ever received. Dr. C. cment knows exactly what he speaks of, and his testimony deserves to be written in letters of gold. Hear what the Doctor says of BULL'S WORM DESTROYER:

VILLANOW, Walker County, Ga., June 29, 1869.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: I have recently given your "Worm Destroyer" several trials, and find it wonderfully efficacious. It has not failed in a single instance to have the wished for effect. I am doing a pretty large country practice, and have daily use for some article of the kind. I am free to confess that I know of no remedy recommended by the oldest authors, that is so certain and speedy in its effects. On the contrary, they are uncertain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine direct from you. If I can get it upon easy terms, I shall use a great deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the regular line M. D's but I see no just cause or good sense in discarding a remedy which we know to be efficient, simply because we may be ignorant of its combination. For my part, I shall make it a rule to use all and any means to alleviate suffering humanity which I may be able to command—not hesitating because some one more ingenious than myself may have learned its effects first, and secured the sole right to secure that knowledge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands of worthless nostrums that flood the country, that purport to cure all manner of disease to which human flesh is heir. A Good Reason for the Captain's Faith.

BENTON BARRACK'S, Mo., April 20, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Knowing the efficiency of your Sarsaparilla, and the healing and beneficial qualities it possesses, I send you the following statement of my case.

I am shot through the hips. My general health is impaired, and I need something to assist nature. I have more faith in your Sarsaparilla than in anything else. I wish that that is genuine. Please express me half a dozen bottles, and oblige.

DR. BULL—Dear Sir: My husband, Dr. C. S. Johnson, was a skillful surgeon and physician in Central New York, where he died, leaving the above C. F. Johnson to my care. At thirteen years of age he had a chronic diarrhœa and scrofula, for which I gave him your Sarsaparilla. IT CURED HIM. I have for ten years recommended it to many in New York, Ohio and Iowa, for scrofula, fever sores and general debility. Perfect success has attended it. The cures effected in some cases of scrofula and fever sores were almost miraculous. I am very anxious for my son to again have recourse to your Sarsaparilla. He is fearful of getting a spurious article, hence his writing
